

Anne B Ryan

Anne B Ryan is an adult educator and writer and an advocate of participative, sharing and ecologically sound social economies. She is an active member of Basic Income Ireland, a founder-member of Derrybeg Community-Supported Farm, a trustee of Feasta. Her most recent book is Enough is Plenty: Public and Private Policies for the 21st Century (OBooks, 2009). She has been associated with the Department of Adult and Community Education at Maynooth University since 1984 and was employed as a lecturer there from 2006-2014.

Antóin Mc Dermott

Member of Cultivate Celbridge/Maynooth and Derrybeg farm. Cultivate Celbridge/Maynooth is a local network looking at how our community can respond best to the challenges and possibilities of our changing climate and volatile economies. The aim of Derrybeg Farm is to integrate community and agriculture in a mixed, biodiverse, sustainable and environmentally responsible farm, managed for the benefit of everyone. Antóin has been actively involved with these groups since their inception

Dr Duncan Martin

Resident of Cloughjordan Ecovillage and Director of Sustainable projects Ltd. Cloughjordan Ecovillage is a registered educational charity and an internationally recognised destination for learning about sustainable living.