1. Introduction

Trócaire's Vision, Mission and Values state that we believe in the intrinsic dignity of every person, celebrate difference and aim to create relationships of mutual respect wherein the rights and dignity of every person are respected. Trócaire's work is inspired and informed by Catholic Social Teaching, one of the fundamental principles of which is the dignity of each individual. The right to freedom from all forms of exploitation and abuse is implicit in this principle.

Trócaire considers that slavery and trafficking in persons (including child labour) both abuses and exploits an individual and will therefore not tolerate this within any of our programmes or activities or by any person representing Trócaire whether within or external to our programmes and activities.

Trócaire is also committed to ensuring our business and dealings with our suppliers, service providers and contractors reflect our values, and both prevent and deter any form of slavery and human trafficking from occurring anywhere in our supply chain.

Trócaire welcomes international efforts in relation to preventing human trafficking and modern slavery - including the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015, the Irish Criminal Law (Human Trafficking) Act 2008, and other relevant legislation in Ireland and the countries where we work - and the duty that is placed on organisations, including Trócaire, to disclose publicly the steps they are taking to prevent modern slavery in their own organisations and in their supply chains.

Equally Trócaire welcomes measures set out within the International Labour Organisation and the aims of the Sustainable Development Goal (8.7) in relation to child labour, modern slavery and trafficking in persons.

2. Definitions

2.1 Trafficking in Persons

Trócaire adopts the definition for trafficking in human beings as set out in the protocols to the UN Convention against Trans-national Organised Crime. According to this Convention, this is:

The recruitment, transportation, transfer, harbouring or receipt of persons, by means of the threat or use of force or other forms of coercion, of abduction, of fraud, of deception, of the abuse of power or of a position of vulnerability or of the giving or receiving of payments or benefits to achieve the consent of a person having control over another person for the purpose of exploitation. Exploitation includes, at a minimum, the exploitation or the prostitution of others or other forms of sexual exploitation, forced labour or services, slavery or practices similar to slavery, servitude or the removal of organs.

Trócaire does not distinguish between severe and non-severe forms of Trafficking in Persons activities, and therefore its staff (and third-party representatives) are held to the highest standard of not engaging in or supporting any form of trafficking.

2.2. Child Labour

Children's or adolescents' participation in light work that provides skills and experience and does not negatively impact health, education and personal development is usually viewed positively, such as helping around the home or earning pocket money on school holidays<sup>i</sup>.

Child labour, in contrast (and as defined in the International Labour Organization Minimum Age Convention 1973), is work that is dangerous, harmful to physical and mental development, denies children their childhood, potential, and dignity, and/or interferes with schooling

The International Labour Law – Minimum Age Convention, 1973 (no. 138) sets the general minimum age for admission to employment or work at 15 years and the minimum age for hazardous work at 18 (16 under certain strict conditions).

In extreme cases child labour can include trafficking, bonded labour, recruitment for armed forces and commercial exploitation (including sexual exploitation)

3. Scope

This statement applies to all those involved with Trócaire, including paid staff, volunteers, board members, trustees, suppliers (including consultants and other contractors), and visitors to our programmes, both overseas and in Ireland. Trócaire equally requires partners to share this commitment and have this articulated either as a standalone policy or with their safeguarding policy.

4. Organisation Structure

Trócaire is a social justice organisation working in partnership with local organisations and communities to tackle the root causes of poverty, injustice and violence. Trócaire has adopted a partnership approach to its work since its foundation in 1973. Trócaire's work is underpinned by the core values of solidarity, courage, participation, perseverance and accountability, inspired by Catholic Social Teaching.

Partnership with locally based organisations is central to Trócaire's programme work. Much of Trócaire's direct advocacy, campaigning and development education work is also undertaken in close collaboration with partners in Ireland and Europe.

Working with a global network of local partners, Trócaire focuses on the areas of human rights, climate and environmental justice, women's protection, voice and influence, and humanitarian response. Trócaire's work is funded through a combination of institutional funding grants and public donations.

5. Policies and Implementation

Trócaire's policies provide the framework for the organisation's responsibility to keep people within our programmes safe from exploitation and abuse, ensuring that no person comes to harm as a result of their engagement with us, whether that is via their interaction with staff and those who represent us, or their participation in our programmes and/or activities. Trócaire views both modern slavery and trafficking in persons (including child labour) as both abusive and exploitative and this falls within the scope of our Safeguarding policies.

Trócaire's Safeguarding policies provides the framework for the organisation's responsibility to keep people within our programmes safe from exploitation and abuse, ensuring that no person comes to harm as a result of their engagement with us, whether that is via their interaction with staff and those who represent us, or their participation in our programs and/or activities.

Trócaire's Procurement Procedures provide a framework for ensuring that all contractors and consultants operate in accordance with Trócaire's principles and values for keeping people safe from exploitation and abuse and that they do not engage in any systems or activities that contravene international or national legislation.

Below lists our key policies in areas potentially impacted by modern slavery and trafficking and/or relevant to ensuring any concerns that may arise regarding modern slavery or trafficking in persons are addressed.

6. Supply Chains

Trócaire's Procurement Procedures provide a framework for ensuring that all contractors and consultants operate in accordance with Trócaire's principles and values for keeping people safe from exploitation and abuse and that they do not engage in any systems or activities that contravene international or national legislation.

In keeping with this statement all Trócaire representatives are prohibited from:

- Engaging in trafficking in persons
- Procuring commercial sex

- Using forced labour in the performance of any work undertaken
  - Directly supporting or advancing trafficking in persons
  - Employing persons under 15 years
  - Employing persons under 18 for hazardous work

Trócaire expects all of its suppliers to adhere to the standards set out in the Supplier Code of Conduct, which is publicly available on Trócaire's website under the supply chain section. This Supplier Code of Conduct sets out Trócaire's expectations of suppliers' conduct with regards to labour and human rights, workplace health and safety, environmental sustainability and a number of other ethical practices. It is based on the Principles of the UN Global Compact, the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015 and Trócaire's own safeguarding standards.

7. Due Diligence

Below are some detailed steps taken to improve our processes and prevent and detect modern slavery and trafficking in persons (including child labour) within our supply chains, in line with the UK Modern Slavery Act and relevant legislation in Ireland and the countries where we work. Trócaire is committed to continually assess and improve our processes to ensure that slavery and human trafficking play no part in our operations or supply chain.

- ✓ The Supplier Code of Conduct has been revised to include a more explicit reference to the UK Modern Slavery Act 2015 as well as our suite of Safeguarding Policies;
- ✓ As part of the contracting process, all suppliers must sign up to the Supplier Code of Conduct;
- ✓ A reference to the Supplier Code of Conduct is included in supplier contracts and/or purchase orders;
- ✓ In high-risk countries where we work, Trócaire actively engages with suppliers and partner organisations on this issue in order to risk assess suppliers.

8. Reporting

Any staff member or third-party representative who becomes aware of an incident or has a concern in relation to potential modern slavery and/or trafficking in persons (including child labour) due to Trócaire's activities has a duty to report this immediately to the Head of Safeguarding and/or the Country Director (international) and Designated Officer<sup>1</sup> (Head of Region- Northern Ireland (NI) & Head of Safeguarding-Ireland & NI).

The management of a report of an incident or an allegation of trafficking in persons will follow the procedures for reporting and investigating allegations of abuse as set out in Trócaire's Complaint's Policy and Trócaire's Safeguarding Policies.

<sup>1</sup> Designated Officer is the term used as the safeguarding representative under Children First and Northern Irish legislation

9. Training

Training on preventing, reporting and responding to potential modern slavery, trafficking in persons and child labour in our work will be conducted through our ongoing code of conduct and safeguarding training, which is delivered to our overseas offices, partner organisations and head office in Ireland on a regular basis.

10. Commitment

Trócaire considers that modern slavery, trafficking in persons and child labour both abuses and exploits an individual and will therefore not tolerate this within any of our programmes or activities or by any person representing Trócaire, including partner organisations whether within or external to our programmes and activities.

Furthermore, no staff member or third party can avail of child labour, support trafficking in persons or forced labour either in their professional or personal life.

Trócaire recognises there is more work to be done. We are committed to continuing to review, monitor and evaluate our policies, procedures, agreements and training to ensure modern slavery, trafficking in persons and child labour does not occur in Trócaire's work and supply chain.
